

THE MOSAIC FACTORY

DISCOVER THE CARBON MOSAIC COLLECTION

Thursday October 12 will be the launch of the Carbon Mosaic Collection. This exclusive collection has been designed by Osiris Hertman in collaboration with The Mosaic Factory. The Design Hotel Mister Highlander on Rokin, which was also designed by Osiris and his team, has been chosen as the venue for this event.

OSIRIS HERTMAN & THE MOSAIC FACTORY

This collection of mosaic tiles was designed by Osiris Hertman for The Mosaic Factory. After a creative process, a unique result was created. The fusion of matt and glossy grey and black tones, enriched with a touch of silver, creates a visual feast that transforms spaces into an oasis of style and luxury.

The colour palette of the new Carbon mosaic tiles is black in all its capacities: glossy, matt and with a metallic touch. The tiles are combined with each other in four different ways. Repeating or staggering the tile mats creates a playful pattern with different light incidence.

The dark colour creates a powerful and mysterious look suitable for covering a kitchen island, a niche in the kitchen or bathroom, a reception desk or a hotel or restaurant bar. The possibilities with black mosaic are endless. Combinations with other materials and colours invite creative interior solutions. The rectangular shape of the tile, reminiscent of a 'kitkat', enhances its robust character. The Carbon Mosaic Collection adds architectural luxury that will not go unnoticed. The versatility of these tiles makes them ideal for any project where class and craftsmanship is required.

"Using black tones from nature, such as charcoal, ebony or black tourmaline in your interiors gives you peace just like nature itself."
